

Redfinn 5700 Angling Boat

The modern Irish angling boat traces its tradition back to the ancient Irish Curragh and with many refinements down the years has now become established as the accepted boat for the Irish Angler.

Erne Boats Ltd with the advice and help of Irelands leading Anglers produced, using up to date building methods their new REDFINN 5700. It is built using an GRP Liner(double skinned method) giving a more asthetically finished craft with positive bouyancy.

Stability and drifting quatities are ensured with a deeper Keel and the boast will take engines up to 20HP. Lockers fore and aft for Fuel and Gear. GRP Seats which can be fitted to individual specification.
